Orgovyx Assistance Program. Easing the Cost of Medications.

Ho, Ho, Ho.

While not a holiday present, assistance with medication cost is welcome this time of year and throughout the year. I see many drug companies offering help with patient drug costs and for a wide variety of illnesses. So, ask your pharmacist or health care provider about financial relief for the Meds you and your loved ones take. You can also do some research online to see what official websites offer help.

Here's the official website for help with your Orgovyx costs:

Terms and conditions apply as the saying goes. I recommend calling their toll-free help number whenever you have questions or doubts to make sure you and the drug companies offering financial relief are on the "same page".

I've written other Saturday Evening Newsletters to help with drug costs.
