I hope your weekend is going well.

Click on the above link to find out more about NEW clinical trials going on around the nation and to see if you qualify. I recommend printing out the UroToday article and sharing it with your health care team.

And, here's one of my older articles covering clinical trials all over the USA.

Again, you may want to print out the above articles and share with your health care team.

I hope to see you at our presentations and support groups.

Warmly,

CKM

See you soon,
