Good Saturday evening!

This is the night we get one step closer to Spring and Summer. Turn your clocks forward one hour before going to bed.

Ira and I are keen on second opinions for prostate cancer biopsies. We are considering advocating second opinions on MRI's as well. Pathology and radiology are the same as other skilled fields. Some know more than others and are better at picking up subtle differences. That difference in skill might make a huge difference in the quality of treatment you get.

Click on the above link for a simple and straightforward article. Share it with friends and family. It covers many different potential diagnoses.
